Investment Objectives, Focus & Approach

Underlying Funds	Investment Objectives, Focus & Approach
PIMCO GIS ESG Income Fund E USD Inc	The investment objective of the Underlying Fund is to seek high current income, consistent with prudent investment management and sustainable investing (by explicitly integrating environmental, social and governance ("ESG") factors into the investment process). Long-term capital appreciation is a secondary objective.

The Underlying Fund utilizes a multi-sector approach to produce a consistent and attractive income while incorporating ESG factors (discussed below). The Underlying Fund will seek to allocate to high quality ESG issuers and will seek to optimize sector exposures within an ESG framework. The Underlying Fund is diversified broadly across regions, industries, issuers, and asset classes, as well as through multiple sources of value.

The Underlying Fund seeks to promote environmental and social characteristics under normal market conditions in various ways set out below and in the Supplement. While the Underlying Fund does not have sustainable investment as its objective, it seeks to invest a portion of its assets in sustainable investments.

Firstly, the Underlying Fund will make meaningful allocations to ESG Fixed Income Securities (as further described in the section entitled “ESG Fixed Income Securities” in paragraph 15 of this Singapore Prospectus) and unlabelled Fixed Income Securities. All securities will be selected according to the Investment Advisor's internal responsibility screening process designed to incorporate Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors. In addition, the Underlying Fund will seek to reduce the carbon footprint, including intensity and emissions of the portfolio's corporate holdings.

Secondly, the Underlying Fund will promote environmental and social characteristics through the use of an exclusion screening process. The Investment Advisor will seek to invest in companies or issuers that it believes have strong ESG practices and the screen applied by the Investment Advisor may exclude companies or issuers on the basis of the industry in which they participate. For example, the Underlying Fund will not invest in the securities of any issuer determined by the Investment Advisor to be engaged principally in the oil industry, including extraction, production, refining, transportation, or the production, sale of coal and coal-fired generation. However, ESG Fixed Income Securities from issuers involved in oil and coal related sectors, as described above, may be permitted. In addition, the Investment Advisor may invest in securities of issuers determined by the Investment Advisor to be primarily focused on biofuel production as well as natural gas generation, transportation, distribution and sales and trading activities. Moreover, additional exclusions may include but are not limited to the following: the Underlying Fund will not invest in the securities of any issuer determined by the Investment Advisor to be engaged principally in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages, tobacco products or military weapons, the operation of gambling casinos, or in the production or trade of pornographic materials. The Investment Advisor may also exclude an issuer based on other criteria such as involvement in environmental damage, corruption, human rights issues, or labour practices.

Thirdly, the Underlying Fund will promote environmental and social characteristics through active engagement. The Investment Advisor may actively engage with companies and issuers in order to seek to improve their ESG practices and the Underlying Fund may retain securities from such companies and issuers if the Investment Advisor deems this engagement is in the best interests of the Underlying Fund and its Shareholders.

The Underlying Fund intends to measure its performance against the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (the "Index").† The Underlying Fund is considered to be actively managed in reference to the Index by virtue of the fact that it uses the Index for performance comparison purposes. Certain of the Underlying Fund's securities may be components of and may have similar weightings to the Index. However the Index is not used to define the portfolio composition of the Underlying Fund or as a performance target and the Underlying Fund may be wholly invested in securities which are not constituents of the Index.

The Underlying Fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments of varying maturities. The Underlying Fund will seek to maintain a high level of dividend income by investing in a broad array of fixed income sectors which in the Investment Advisor's view typically generate elevated levels of income.

The capital appreciation sought by the Underlying Fund generally arises from an increase in value of Fixed Income Instruments held by the Underlying Fund caused by decreases in interest rates or improving credit Fundamentals for a particular investment sector (e.g. improved economic growth) or security (e.g. improved credit rating or stronger balance sheet fundamentals).

The average portfolio duration of the Underlying Fund will normally vary from 0 to 8 years based on the Investment Advisor's forecast for interest rates.

The Underlying Fund may invest in both investment grade securities and high yield securities ("junk bonds"), subject to a maximum of 50% of its total assets in securities rated below Baa3 by Moody's, or equivalently rated by S&P or Fitch, or if unrated, determined by the Investment Advisor to be of comparable quality (except such limitation shall not apply to the Underlying Fund's investments in mortgage-related and other asset-backed securities and therefore the Underlying Fund can invest without limitation in such securities).

Where the Investment Advisor deems it appropriate to do so for temporary or defensive purposes, the Underlying Fund may invest 100% of its net assets in Fixed Income Securities (as described above) issued by, or guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the U.S. government (including its agencies or instrumentalities) and repurchase agreements secured by such obligations provided that the Underlying Fund holds at least six different issues, with securities from any one issue not exceeding 30% of net assets.

The Underlying Fund may invest up to 20% of its total assets in Fixed Income Instruments that are economically tied to emerging market countries.

	No more than 10% of the Underlying Fund's total assets may be invested in Equity Securities and equity related securities (such as warrants and preferred stock). The Underlying Fund may use derivative instruments which include futures, options, options on futures and swap agreements (which may be listed or over-the-counter) and may also enter into currency forward contracts. Such derivative instruments may be used (i) for hedging purposes and/or (ii) for investment purposes and/or (iii) efficient portfolio management. The Taxonomy Regulation seeks to create a common framework in order to classify certain activities as environmentally sustainable. The detailed conditions to be satisfied under the Taxonomy Regulation for such classification called the TSC require the availability of multiple, specific data points for each investment. As at the date hereof, there is insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data available to be able to assess investments using the TSC and while there may be investments in the Underlying Fund that are in economic activities that contribute to an environmental objective and be eligible to be assessed against the TSC, the Manager is not currently in a position to provide this information. Therefore, the minimum share of investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities aligned with the Taxonomy Regulation including in transitional and enabling activities shall be 0%.
PIMCO GIS Climate Bond Fund E EUR Hedged Acc	The investment objective of the Underlying Fund is to seek optimal risk adjusted returns, consistent with prudent investment management, while giving consideration to long term climate related risks and opportunities. The Underlying Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing under normal circumstances at least 80% of its total assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments, of varying maturities. The Underlying Fund will reference its performance against the Bloomberg MSCI Green Bond Index USD Hedged (the "Index"). The Index offers investors a measure of the global market for fixed income securities issued to Underlying Fund projects with direct environmental benefits. The Underlying Fund is considered to be actively managed in reference to the Index by virtue of the fact that it uses the Index for performance comparison purposes. Certain of the Underlying Fund's securities may be components of and may have similar weightings to the Index. However the Index is not used to define the portfolio composition of the Underlying Fund or as a performance target and the Underlying Fund may be wholly invested in securities which are not constituents of the Index. The Underlying Fund may invest in both investment grade securities and high yield securities ("junk bonds"), subject to a maximum of 25% of its total assets in securities rated below Baa by Moody's, or equivalently rated by S&P or Fitch, or if unrated, determined by the Investment Advisor to be of comparable quality (except such limitation shall not apply to the Underlying Fund's investments in mortgage-related and other asset-backed securities and therefore the Underlying

Fund can invest without limitation in such securities). The average portfolio duration of the Underlying Fund will normally vary between 2 to 8 years based on the Investment Advisor's forecast for interest rates.

The Underlying Fund may invest up to 25% of its total assets in Fixed Income Instruments that are economically tied to emerging market countries. The aforementioned limitation does not apply to investment grade sovereign debt (securities or instruments) denominated in the local currency with less than 1 year remaining to maturity. This means that the Underlying Fund may be fully exposed to emerging market countries subject to any applicable legal or regulatory limitation.

The Underlying Fund will invest opportunistically in a broad spectrum of climate focused Fixed Income Instruments and debt. In making investment decisions the Investment Advisor considers various quantitative and qualitative data relating to (i) global economies, (ii) projected growth of various industrial sectors and asset classes and (iii) issuers demonstrating leadership with respect to addressing climate related factors. Given the long term nature of the risks and opportunities presented by climate change and resource depletion, the Investment Advisor may emphasize a more strategic, or long-term in nature investment strategy, with less emphasis on a short-term, tactical trading strategy.

The Underlying Fund will ordinarily be comprised of labeled and unlabeled green Fixed Income Securities as well as the debt of issuers demonstrating leadership in addressing risk and opportunities around climate related change. The Underlying Fund may also invest in any of the other types of ESG Fixed Income Securities (as further described in the section entitled "ESG Fixed Income Securities" in paragraph 15 of this Singapore Prospectus). Labeled green Fixed Income Securities are those issues with proceeds specifically earmarked to be used for climate and environmental projects. Green labeled bonds are often verified by a third party (such as an audit firm), which certifies that the bond will Underlying Fund projects that include environmental benefits. Unlabeled green Fixed Income Securities are securities with proceeds used for climate-aligned projects and initiatives (such as renewable energy and municipal owned water systems) but are issued without formal certifications. The Investment Advisor may engage proactively with issuers to encourage them to improve their environmental practices or preparations for a low carbon economy.

The Investment Advisor's activities in this respect may include, but are not limited to, direct dialogue with company management, such as through in-person meetings, phone calls, electronic communications and letters. Through these engagement activities, the Investment Advisor will seek to identify opportunities for a company to improve its climate focused practices and will endeavor to work collaboratively with company management to establish concrete objectives and to develop a plan for meetings these objectives. The Underlying Fund may invest in securities of issuers whose climaterelated practices are currently suboptimal, with the expectations that these practices may improve over time either as a result of the Investment Advisor's engagement efforts or through the company's own initiatives. The Underlying Fund may exclude those issuers that are not receptive to the Investment Advisor's engagement efforts, as determined in the Investment Advisor's sole discretion. The Underlying Fund will not invest in the securities of any issuer determined by the Investment Advisor to be engaged principally in the fossil fuel industry. However, ESG Fixed Income Securities (as further described in the section entitled "ESG Fixed Income Securities" in paragraph 15 of this Singapore Prospectus) from issuers involved in fossil fuel-related sectors may be permitted. The Underlying Fund may hold both non-USD denominated Fixed Income Instruments and non-USD denominated currency positions. Non-USD currency exposure is limited to 20% of total assets. No more than 10% of the Underlying Fund's total assets may be invested in equity securities and equity related securities (such as warrants and preferred stock). The Underlying Fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in convertible securities (including contingent convertible securities). The Underlying Fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in units or shares of other collective investment schemes. The Underlying Fund may also invest up to 10% of its net assets in aggregate in illiquid securities and in loan participations and loan assignments which constitute money market instruments. Investments by the Underlying Fund in Fixed Income Instruments will not include collateralised mortgage obligations. The Underlying Fund may use derivative instruments such as futures, options, options on futures and swap agreements (which may be listed or over-the-counter) and may also enter into currency forward contracts. Such derivative instruments may be used (i) for hedging purposes and/or (ii) for investment purposes and/or (iii) efficient portfolio management. The EU Taxonomy Regulation (the "Taxonomy Regulation") seeks to create a common framework in order to classify certain activities as environmentally sustainable. The detailed conditions to be satisfied under the Taxonomy Regulation for such classification called the Technical Screening Criteria ("TSC") require the availability of multiple, specific data points for each investment. As at the date hereof, there is insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data available to be able to assess investments using the TSC and while there may be investments in the Underlying Fund that are in economic activities that contribute to an environmental objective and be eligible to be assessed against the TSC, the Manager is not currently in a position to provide this information. Therefore, the minimum share of investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities aligned with the Taxonomy Regulation including in transitional and enabling activities shall be 0%.

Top-down strategies focus on both short-term and longer-term global macroeconomic considerations and are utilised as part of regional and sector selection. Risks

The ILP sub-funds are not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-funds.

Please refer to the section on “Risk Factors and Use Of Derivatives” in the PIMCO Funds: GIS plc Singapore Prospectus as well as on the section on “General Risk Factors” and “Characteristics and Risks of Securities, Derivatives and Investment Techniques” in the PIMCO Funds: GIS plc Ireland Prospectus, for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the underlying PIMCO Funds: GIS plc sub-funds. The risks may include:

Basis Risk

Strategies that target perceived pricing inefficiencies and similar strategies, such as arbitrage strategies, are subject to the risk that markets or the prices of individual securities do not move as forecast, resulting in potentially reduced returns or losses to a Underlying Fund and possibly costs associated with unwinding certain trades. Forecasting market movements is difficult, and securities may be mispriced or improperly valued by the Investment Advisors. Securities issued by the same entity, or securities otherwise considered similar, may not be priced or valued similarly across markets or in the same market, and attempts to profit from pricing differences may not be successful for several reasons, including unexpected changes in pricing and valuation. To the extent a Underlying Fund uses derivatives to pursue certain strategies, the Underlying Fund is subject to the additional risk that the derivative’s performance does not correlate perfectly, if at all, with the value of an underlying asset, reference rate or index. Measures such as average credit quality or average duration may not accurately reflect the true credit risk or interest rate sensitivity of a Underlying Fund. This is especially the case if the Underlying Fund consists of securities with widely varying credit ratings or durations. Therefore, a Underlying Fund with an average credit rating or average duration that suggests a certain credit quality or level of interest rate risk may in fact be subject to greater credit risk or interest rate risk than the average would suggest. These risks are greater to the extent the Underlying Fund uses leverage or derivatives in connection with the management of the Underlying Fund.

Currency Risk

Some of the Underlying Funds may be exposed to currency exchange risk. Changes in exchange rates between currencies or the conversion from one currency to another may cause the value of the Underlying Fund’s investments to diminish or increase. Currency exchange rates may fluctuate significantly over short periods of time. They generally are determined by supply and demand in the currency exchange markets and the relative merits of investments in different countries, actual or perceived changes in interest rates and other complex factors. Currency exchange rates also can be affected unpredictably by intervention (or the failure to intervene) by governments or central banks, or by currency controls or political developments. In addition, in the event that the Underlying Funds invest in a currency (i) which ceases to exist or (ii) in which a participant in such currency ceases to be a participant in such currency, it is likely that this would have an adverse impact on the Underlying Funds’s liquidity. The Net Asset Value per Share of the unhedged Share Classes will be calculated in the particular Underlying Funds’s Base Currency and will then be translated into the currency of the Share Class respectively at the market rate. It is expected that, because the Investment Advisor of the Underlying Funds will not hedge this currency exposure, the Net Asset Value per Share and performance of the unhedged Share Classes will be impacted by changes in the rate of exchange between the currency exposures of the relevant Underlying Funds’s and the currency of the unhedged Share Class. Investors in unhedged Share Classes will bear this currency risk.

Derivatives Risk

The Underlying Funds may be subject to risks associated with derivative instruments. Derivatives are financial contracts whose value depends on, or is derived from, the value of an underlying asset, reference rate or index. Derivatives will typically be used as a substitute for taking a position in the underlying asset and/or as part of strategies designed to gain exposure to, for example, issuers, specific positions on the yield curve, indices, sectors, currencies, and/or geographic regions, and/or to reduce exposure to other risks, such as interest rate or currency risk. The Underlying Funds may also use derivatives for gaining exposure within the limits set out by the Central Bank, in which case their use would involve exposure risk, and in some cases, may subject a Fund to the potential for unlimited loss. The use of derivatives may cause the Fund’s investment returns to be impacted by the performance of securities the Fund does not own and result in the Fund’s total investment exposure exceeding the value of its portfolio. A Fund’s use of derivative instruments involves risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. Derivatives are subject to a number of risks described elsewhere in this section, such as liquidity risk, interest rate risk, market risk, credit risk and management risk, as well as risks arising from changes in margin requirements. They also involve the risk of mispricing or improper valuation and the risk that changes in the value of the derivative may not correlate perfectly with the underlying asset, rate or index. A Fund investing in a derivative instrument could lose more than the principal amount invested and derivatives may increase the volatility of the Fund, especially in unusual or extreme market conditions. Also, suitable derivative transactions may not be available in all circumstances and there can be no assurance that a Fund will engage in these transactions to reduce exposure to other risks when that would be beneficial or that, if used, such strategies will be successful. In addition, a Fund's use of derivatives may increase or accelerate the amount of taxes payable by Shareholders.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Funds. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Funds may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.
